

Disclaimer

Welcome to the Mental Health Television Network ("MHTN"). This disclaimer page outlines important information and terms that you should be aware of before using or relying on any content provided by MHTN. By accessing or using our services, you agree to the following:

1. Content for Informational Purposes Only: The content presented on the Network is intended for informational purposes only and should not be considered as professional medical or mental health advice, diagnosis, or treatment. It is not a substitute for professional guidance from qualified mental health professionals. Always consult with a licensed professional regarding your specific circumstances before making any decisions or taking any actions.
2. No Doctor-Patient Relationship: No doctor-patient or therapist-client relationship is created or implied between you and the Network, its hosts, guests, or contributors by accessing or using the content on this platform. The Network does not provide personal medical or mental health services, and any reliance on the information presented is solely at your own risk.
3. Content Accuracy and Completeness: The Network strives to provide accurate and up-to-date information, but we cannot guarantee the accuracy, completeness, or timeliness of the content. The field of mental health is constantly evolving, and new research and understanding may emerge that may contradict or change previously shared information. Therefore, it is essential to cross-reference and verify the information provided with other reputable sources.
4. Individual Variations and Circumstances: Mental health conditions and experiences can vary widely among individuals. The information presented on the Network may not be applicable or suitable for everyone. Individual experiences, circumstances, and cultural factors can significantly impact mental health. Therefore, we recommend consulting with a mental health professional to tailor advice and treatment to your specific needs.
5. No Endorsement: The inclusion of any organizations, products, treatments, or services on the Network does not imply endorsement or recommendation by the Network. Any opinions expressed by hosts, guests, or contributors are their own and do not necessarily reflect those of the Network. We encourage users to independently evaluate and research any product or service before making decisions.
6. Potential Risks: Engaging in certain activities discussed on the Network, such as self-help techniques or coping strategies, may carry potential risks. It is important to exercise caution, use common sense, and seek professional guidance when implementing any advice or techniques mentioned on the Network.
7. External Links: The Network may provide links to external websites or resources for convenience. However, we are not responsible for the content, accuracy, or availability of these external resources. The inclusion of any link does not imply endorsement or affiliation with the linked site.
8. Confidentiality and Privacy: While the Network respects user privacy, please be aware that communications over the internet are not entirely secure. We cannot guarantee the confidentiality or security of any information shared on the Network.

Therefore, refrain from disclosing any personally identifiable information that you wish to keep confidential.

9. Limitation of Liability: To the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, the Network, its affiliates, hosts, guests, contributors, and employees shall not be liable for any direct, indirect, incidental, consequential, or punitive damages arising out of your access to or use of the content provided on the Network.
10. Changes to Disclaimer: The Network reserves the right to modify or update this disclaimer at any time without prior notice. Please check this page periodically for any changes.

By accessing or using the content provided by the Mental Health Television Network, you acknowledge that you have read, understood, and agreed to this disclaimer.
